10 Camper-Approved Blackstone Accessories for Camping

Blackstone makes an entire universe of accessories for its griddles, and many of them are specifically designed for camping or portable use. These accessories can be purchased (online or in-person) at a wide variety of stores like Walmart, Lowe's, Ace Hardware, and DICK's Sporting Goods, as well as Blackstone's website. Note that you may find one product available at one retailer but not at others.

Other companies make accessories that will work just fine with your Blackstone—so don't despair if you can't find the exact items mentioned below. However, we've put all of these accessories to the test, and can recommend both the quality and design.

Before you purchase any of these accessories, take the following factors into consideration:

1. Blackstone often makes a larger and a smaller version of an accessory. For camping, buy the smaller one.
2. Blackstone sometimes makes foldable versions of its most popular accessories. These are great for camping—get them if you can.
3. You only need a small handful of accessories for griddle cooking at the campground, and what you need will depend on what you cook.
4. Buy only the accessories that complement your campground meal plan. Space is limited in an RV, so if you don't cook tacos at the campground, then don't buy a taco rack.

10 Camper-Approved Blackstone Accessories for Camping

Here are some of our favorite Blackstone accessories for camping.

- 1. Signature Griddle Spatula: Blackstone makes spatulas in a variety of sizes. The mid-sized spatulas are the best for camping because they can be used for smash burgers, pancakes, stir-fry, or just about anything. Their length is also perfect for a portable tabletop griddle.
- 2. Griddle Scraper: Next to a good set of spatulas, a griddle scraper will be your most used tool. When it comes to keeping your griddle top clean and ready to go, these are an absolute necessity. Blackstone makes a wide variety of scrapers with handles, but the handless scraper is great for camping because it takes up less storage space.
- 3. Deluxe Taco Rack: If you love taco night at the campground, make sure you have a taco rack. It's great for keeping tacos warm and for melting cheese inside soft taco shells since the rack can be placed directly on the griddle top. Carry the rack right from the griddle top to the picnic table for perfect presentation.
- 4. Adventure Ready Collapsible Basting Cover: The collapsible basting dome is a great space saver in an RV, and it's a must have if you don't have a griddle with a hood. Use the basting dome for melting cheese and steaming vegetables to perfection.
- 5. Grease Cup Liners: Blackstone's recent models come with a patented rear grease management system with rear grease cups. These disposable rear grease cup liners make cleanup quick and easy. They can also be rinsed out and re-used.
- 6. 20-Ounce Square Squeeze Bottles: Squeeze bottles can be used to store oils for cooking and water for cleanup. The square squeeze bottles tend to work better than the round ones and they're more durable and less prone to leaking. Larger sized bottles are also available, but this size is more compact for camping.

7. Scouring Pads: These scouring pads are perfect for getting extra grit and grime off of your griddle top. Use them with a squirt of water after scraping your griddle top down and it will look as good as new.

8. Adventure Ready Griddle Press: Another great space saver for camping, this collapsible griddle press is useful for straightening bacon or pressing your favorite paninis. You can also use it to make smash burgers. Plus, it easily folds up and can be stored in a drawer.

9. Silicone Egg Rings: These are terrific for making breakfast sandwiches and keeping your eggs neat and tidy on the griddle top. Use the square rings when making eggs on toast, and the round rings when putting eggs on a roll.

10. LED Griddle Light: This extendable, USB-rechargeable light is terrific for cooking at night and an absolute must-have for camping. The light is bright enough to illuminate your entire cooking area and its magnetic base keeps it stable while in use—but don't attach it directly to the griddle top.
